Subject: Microsoft Settlement

Dear Sir or Madam -

Regarding the settlement of the antitrust case with Microsoft -

Microsoft's unethical and anticompetitive business practices must be stopped.

There must be an injunction or other legal device, or Microsoft must be split into separate business entities in order to restore competition.

Microsoft's operating system must be unbundled from its internet browser and other software so that the consumer and free market will determine the best products and foster healthy competition.

I have purchased several software packages such as spreadsheet, word processing, project scheduling that I greatly preferred over the Microsoft products; however, they are no longer available for update due to the unfair competition from Microsoft. I have been personally hurt by Microsoft in that I am forced to use inferior, crash prone software.

Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
KR Schroepfer
